Interport Global Logistics deploys Logi-Sys for enhancing Enterprise Performance

Deploys Integrated Logistics Management Technology to enhance Global Operations and Customer Service

MUMBAI : Softlink Global announced that one of the leading international logistics service providers, Interport Global Logistics Pvt. Ltd., has implemented its Logi-Sys for enhancing enterprise performance. Following the company's initiative to replace its legacy systems and update its technology, it selected Logi-Sys to help its large network of branches perform more efficiently, reduce costs, comply with industry standards and regulations, and deliver rapid, accurate and quality services to the customers. The Softlink solution not only offers the company a superior technology advantage, it also integrates seamlessly the entire operation of the company across functions.

In order to serve a very large customer base, Interport Global Logistics wanted to ensure that its technology solution could accommodate current operations and scale as the company's needs expand. As such, Logi-Sys's reliability and high scalability became one of the key deciding factors in the selection process. Other key factors that led to the selection of Softlink technology included Logi-Sys's overall solution design, particularly in terms of integration and eliminating redundancy, and Softlink's experience and track record with logistics solutions involving complex systems and requirements.

Interport Global now has the benefit of integrated ERP solution that is modular as well as scalable. The solution enables instant access to information to facilitate timely action and provide users with the information they need to act and respond to situations more effectively. Its notification and alert features through email and SMS keeps the company and the customers informed at all times. Further, Logi-Sys, which the company has deployed recently, helps lower costs by offering flexible operational capabilities, enabling large volumes of transactions and optimum use of resources.

"As one of the largest logistics service providers in India, we are very pleased to deploy this advanced technology in our company," shares Mr. Sham Bendre, Chairman & Global CEO, Interport Global Logistics Pvt. Ltd. "With the help of Logi-Sys we intend to integrate the entire functions of the company under a single system and enhance the performance. Its visibility and customer service tools will help us in improving our customer experience."

Chairman & Global CEO

Mr. Amit Maheshwari, MD, Softlink Global says, "Logi-Sys is an advanced, ERP solution for logistics that is especially designed to integrate and optimize the performance of companies. In addition to its core integration capabilities, the offering includes robust functionality for visibility and analysis to help companies meet new challenges arising from increasing customer demands and global competition. With Softlink's solution, agencies can enhance performance, and better achieve efficiency, improved quality and customer retention."
